ABOUT LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT CONFERENCES

WHAT IS AN LDC?: LDCs are small working conferences designed for youth and adult leaders. An LDC focuses on making the youth group mind "smarter" by helping the participants learn how to be leaders. At an LDC, youth and advisors learn concrete leadership skills within a structure that helps them reflect on why they are involved in youth ministry, what roles they play in their youth group (local or district/regional), and what they think it means to be a leader in Unitarian Universalist communities. Leadership training is a process of empowerment-giving the members of the group the skills they need to have power in their group.

An LDC can also provide benefits to local youth groups and congregations; the youth and advisors returning from LDC conferences often bring their congregations new skills and energy. Most importantly, an LDC is about personal empowerment, offering each participant a chance to grow in terms of actual skills, self-confidence as a leader, and enthusiasm and commitment.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND AN LDC?: Youth who want to learn to be leaders. Advisors who want to learn to be empowering. DREs and Ministers who want to learn to support youth programming.
