Tell me more!

As many of you know, the Metro NY District has long been hoping to gather together UUs within the District who have historic buildings and would like to learn more effective ways to care for them, raise funds for their preservation, and imagine new ways their sacred places can be thriving community resources. We haven't given up! Are you interested in:

- Learning successful strategies for raising capital funds within your congregation and from the larger community?
- Calculating the value of your church's contribution to the community and making a strong case statement for funding support?
- Learning how to organize and carry out a capital campaign?
- Developing an action plan that will help you meet your fundraising goals?

If so, this is the workshop for you! We need teams of lay leaders and clergy from approximately 12 congregations to make this program fly! For more information about the New Dollars/New Partners program, visit the Partners for Sacred Spaces website at <http://www.sacredplaces.org/training.htm>.

More Questions?

The Rev. Alison Cornish is coordinating participation in this program. As a former historic preservation consultant as well as a member of the clergy, she will be happy to answer your questions about this program. Email her at acornish@uuma.org or call her at 631-725-5987.
