THE RISE AND FALL OF JIM CROW

This landmark PBS four part series, explores segregation from the end of The Civil War to the dawn of the modern civil rights movement.

The second episode (1896 – 1917) explores the dramatic rise of a successful black middle class and the determination of white supremacists to destroy this fledgling black political power. This episode ends with the violence at home giving way to warfare abroad as thousands of black Americans depart for W.W. I. An open, inquiring, analytical discussion will follow the viewing.
