

UU Society in Stamford Honors Long-time Music Consultant

For 31 years, the UU Society in Stamford (CT) has been graced with Maureen Ferrara-Higle's talents as pianist, organist, choir director, and music consultant. On Sunday, May 20, Maureen and the Rev. Ron Sala collaborated on the presentation of a music-oriented special celebratory service.

Rev. Sala's homily, "Music Makes Us Whole," included references to the major periods of music with examples played by Maureen and guest musicians from composers Bach, Haydn, Brahms, Debussy, Villa-Lobos, new-age composer David Lanz and a transcription of jazz pianist Oscar Peterson.

Flutist Sharon Levin, harpist Karen Stern, and violinist Darwin Shen joined Maureen in performing musical selections in the excellent acoustical space of the Society's sanctuary.

A gala reception followed in the Social Room.
