

Hot Off the Presses: News from the District Anti-Racism and Diversity Committee

Creating a Jubilee World Workshop The District Anti-Racism and Diversity Committee (ARDC) is hosting a “Creating a Jubilee World” workshop on Friday evening, March 13, and all day Saturday, March 14. This workshop is ideal for all congregations regardless where they are on the continuum. This workshop also provides a gentle start-up for those who are new to the process and a refresher opportunity for those who have been struggling alone, or have little support. Meet others who are involved in the work. Meet new allies and connect with those in your cluster. We are pleased to confirm that a team of experienced trainers, Jyaphia Christos-Rodgers and Carl McCargo, will facilitate this workshop. Online registration is available at <https://www.formdesk.com/uiforms/jubilee>. For further information, special requests, alternate Friday programming, and housing information, please contact the Jubilee Team at uuccn21@gmail.com. Scholarships are available by contacting the Rev. Dr. Michael Tino at mtino@uuma.org or 914-241-1360. This event is hosted by the UU Congregation of Central Nassau in Garden City NY. The congregation is fully accessible and is located one convenient block away from the Long Island Railroad Nassau Boulevard station, a short ride away from Penn Station NY.

ARDC Workshop at the 2009 District Annual Meeting Members of the ARDC will present We'll All Be Back Tomorrow: Covenant, Right Relations and Anti-Oppression on May 2. The work of transforming our congregations into anti-racist, anti-oppressive, and multicultural institutions requires us to build deep, committed relationships that survive through hard work and even mistakes. We will explore the role of covenant in keeping people engaged with this work, examine tools for right relationship in our congregations, and hear stories of success from congregations around the District.

10th Annual ARDC Conclave 2009 We are proud to announce our 10th Annual District Conclave!!! The Conclave is scheduled for Saturday, May 30, from 9am -5pm at the Community Church of New York UU in Manhattan. This affirms our District's commitment to undoing injustice. At the same time, be challenged as we move into next steps along our shared journey. This year's timely focus is on 100% Organic Anti-Racism: Environmental Justice and Anti-Oppression. Come. Celebrate. Be Challenged.
