

“Creating A Jubilee World” Workshop (Jubilee 1) and The Jubilee Two Training

Developed by the Jubilee Working Group for Anti-Racism, Jubilee 1 is designed to help Unitarian Universalist congregations dismantle racism by allowing participants to examine both personal and institutional racism, and by empowering them to develop a realistic plan that can move their congregations forward in working for racial justice. Jubilee 1 is a first step on the Jubilee path.

The Jubilee Two is an intensive 2½-day workshop on institutional racism. To deal effectively with systemic racism it is important to have an accurate diagnosis of racism and to use terms that have clearly understood meanings. We call this the process of developing a common analysis.

Both are lead by experienced anti-racism trainers; Congregational Services of the UUA invites you to find out more about the many resources that are available to help congregations take steps along the Many Paths, One Journey of Justice Making at <http://www.uua.org/programs/justice/antiracism/>
