

In the 19th century it was a "sin" for women to speak in public.

Roots of Rebellion - A Docu-Drama

Author/actress Laurie James will involve us in reading her play dramatizing those bold enough to speak out.

Participants will portray the historic heroines who paved the way for change, including Gloria Steinem who talks about why women have difficulty speaking in public.

A Round-the-Table Spontaneous Reading

My Story, Your Story, Our Stories

Barbara Aliprantis, an award-winning nationally acclaimed storyteller, will lead us in storytelling. Born in Greece, raised in Brooklyn, New York, she will involve us in telling our stories, adding multicultural stories, the immigrant experience and tales from world folklore. She holds a BA in the Performing Arts from Empire State College. For more information visit her website at www.barbaraaliprantis.com.

Terry Bain
461 McDermott Rd.
Rockville Centre, NY 11570

UUWA WEEKEND RENEWAL!
SIGN UP AT ONCE!

The Unitarian Universalist Women's Association and The Women & Religion Committee

New York Metropolitan District

A WEEKEND RENEWAL - NOVEMBER 11 - 13, 2005

with

Laurie James' docu-drama, "Roots of Rebellion" (A Round-the-Table Reading)

and

Barbara Aliprantis as Storyteller

at

St. Josephat's Retreat House
Glen Cove, Long Island, N. Y.
"On the North Shore"

BRING: => Warm clothes for your walks!

BRING: => Friday night food to share. (Only soups/hot drinks provided by kitchen.)

BRING: => Any item which reflects an important aspect of your life for Friday night Gathering!

Table with 3 columns: Friday, Saturday, Sunday. Rows include activities like Registration, Socializing, Eating; Breakfast; Reading; Workshop; Lunch; Dinner and Entertainment; Gathering and Sharing; Sunday Service; Closing Circle.

More Information: Reena Kondo at 518-226-0438 or 212 724-0438

- DIRECTIONS: LIE to exit 39N, (Glen Cove Road). North 5 miles until you come to fork. Bear left at fork (Route 107 North.) Take 107 to end and make a right onto Brewster Street. Go 1/2 mile (4 traffic lights) and make a left onto Dosoris Lane. Go to end and make a sharp right onto Lattingtown Road. Turn left onto East Beach Road and proceed to entrance. Follow signs to St. Josephat's Retreat House. Or take the Long Island Railroad to the Glen Cove station. We will arrange Friday night pick-ups.

-----✂-----Clip and mail to Suite 26J, 500 W. 43rd St., New York, NY 10036-----

😊 I WOULDN'T MISS THIS FOR THE WORLD! 🚶

NAME _____ PHONE # _____ EMAIL _____

ADDRESS _____ CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

CHURCH AFFILIATION _____

$135 Program, Room & Meals / $120 Early Bird Registration; Deadline Oct. 3 / $85 "Commuter Rate" - Program & Meals, only.

CHECK PAYABLE TO UUWA-METRO DISTRICT

( ) I can offer a ride to someone in my area! ( ) I would like a ride, if possible.

( ) I will be taking the LIRR, and will need to be picked up at the Glen Cove Station.

A "Round-the-Table" reading of a docu-drama, "Roots of Rebellion", by the well-known UU playwright Laurie James, and a story-telling session with the award-winning Barbara Aliprantis will highlight the UUWA Metro District's Fall Renewal Weekend at St. Josephat's Retreat House, Glen Cove, Long Island, N. Y., Nov. 11-13.

In the play, participants will characterize the first American women to speak out on public platforms, Frances Wright, Angelina Grimke, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Susan B. Anthony, Sojourner Truth, and others, as well as Gloria Steinem who talks about why women, including herself, have had difficulty speaking in public. The story-teller, Barbara Aliprantis, will entertain with multicultural stories, the immigrant experience, tales from world folklore, and will involve the group in telling their own stories. Other activities will include dialogue, networking, and entertainment.